ALL SORTS.

Ezra Kendall will appear next Saturday at the Opera House.

All the corporation power of the District is behind Rising. Why are they so anxious about his election?

Custer Post will please remember that its next Regular meeting has been postponed to next Friday evening the 9th inst.

Some persons, who are intensely hostile to the Silver party, are learning the truth of the adage, "That those who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

The leanest argument we have yet heard against the Silver party of this county was made yesterday: "Yes, they did save $20,000 in two years, but that's no sign they'll do it again."

Be sure and vote for Judge Rising tomorrow. His opponent, Chas. E. Mack, would be a dangerous man to place on the Bench.—Tribune.

He might be dangerous for the rings and corporations attempting to run him.

Because Joe Douglass could not wheel Charley Mack into line on his mining suits he proposes to defeat him for District Judge. Mack is the man we want, he is not controlled by such men as Douglass.—Lyon County Times.

The Tribune job office was busy last night getting out a poster to answer the APPEALS figures on county finances. Too late. The figures were given to the voters ten days ago and they have had time to investigate them. They are admitted to be correct and no accounts cooked up on election day will be considered by the voters.

The death of E. G. Waite of California is a sad commentary on the ingratitude of a State. He saved the State of California hundreds of thousands, and branded one of its officials, Dr. Burns, as a defaulter. Burns boomed the convention and turned Waite down and the public stood it. The humiliation killed an honest man as ever breathed.

Vote for Woodbury and Bray for Commissioners and taxes will soon be reduced and the county placed on a cash basis.—Tribune. Do you expect to put the county on a cash basis, by returning to the old boodle rule and spending $10,000 a year more than is necessary to keep political hangers on standing about on the roads at the expense of the taxpayers?

The Republican Central Committee by declining a public debate on the question of county finances, openly admitted that the showing made by the Silver men was true. The public all know it is true, yet on the heels of it the Tribune yawns as follows:

Do you desire a return of prosperity? If so, vote the Republican State and county ticket.

All this is vastly amusing. A man who changes his politics to get an office, as Slingerland did, is not a safe person to make Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners.—Tribune.

It is a new thing to hear that when a man quits a party devoted mostly to boodle, that he is an unsafe man. Slingerland has not changed his politics any more than Woodbury, who years ago was packing a torch for Fair, and now asks for a Republican office.

THE CHARGE AGAINST MACK.

The Lyon County Times Rips it to Pieces.

The last issue of the Lyon County Times, the county where the charges against Mack originated, thus disposes of the whole affair.

The long looked for and much talked about expose that Joe Douglass and his nephew, William, have been going to make to down C. E. Mack, the Silver party nominee for District Judge in this district, has appeared. It is in the shape of a decision rendered by Judge Hawley in the case of J. M. Douglass vs. J. D. Byrnes, in which C. E. Mack was one of the Commissioners appointed to assess damages against plaintiff for running a tunnel through some mining ground in Silver City. The report of the Commissioners was requested to be set aside because, as Mr. Douglass explained around here, Mr. Mack was at the time he was a Commissioner in the case was employed by defendants in another case. Now let us see how that statement compares with the decision of Judge Hawley. Here is what it says:

"The fact is that this Commissioner, (C. E. Mack) previous to the time of his appointment, had acted as an attorney for one of the defendants, which was unknown to petitioners or their attorney or to the Court; but it affirmatively appears that said Commissioner was not regularly employed for said defendant and had only been specially retained to try two cases in the Justice's Court and that his employment for, and business with the defendant was ended and settled prior to his appointment as a Commissioner."

Notice that it says previous to the time of his appointment he had acted as attorney for one of the defendants. If there is anything wrong about a lawyer taking a case for one party at one time and another party at another time there has been no decision to that effect by any court in the land. Mr. Mack has built himself into a lucrative law practice by his uprightness in all cases he has been engaged in. That he ever did any underhanded work in any case has yet to be proved, for certainly this decision of Judge Hawley's does not so prove. The Commissioners were discharged because it appeared that the damages were affixed at too high a figure to suit J. M. Douglass; but we take it that any damage at all would be too high to suit him, in fact, his claim was that no damage had been done, and another set of commissioners did award defendants damages.

If there is any irregularity in anything done by C. E. Mack, as shown by the decision of Judge Hawley, we fail to see it. Mr. Mack is a gentleman whom no such methods as those being brought forward to defeat him will harm, in the least with unprejudiced thinking men. He is not a man for the corporations, therefore they do not want him. He will not be purchasable by any person if he is elected to preside on the bench in this district, and the taxpayers throughout the district can rest assured that they will have all Court business attended to with regularity and in an impartial manner, with no delays to witnesses and jurymen, and therewith extra expense, for him to get into condition to transact business. The charges against Mr. Mack are about the flatest campaign literature that has ever been brought to the surface in this fight, and they are brought out at this late moment so that what little damage they may do cannot be refuted in the outside districts.

More Saving.

ED. APPEAL:—Your showing of $19,432.91 in two years does not tell all. The Silver party paid a bond of $1,000 that was saddled on the county by the Republicans also $600 interest on bonds.

Now half the gaming licenses that used to go to the county go to the city. I have investigated these figures personally because I read in the News and Tribune that they were all cooked up to deceive the voters. The showing astonished me because I had read so much of the terrible extravagance of the silver party in county affairs. I shall now vote the silver ticket straight.

Yours,
A TAXPAYER.

Death of George T. Davis.

Yesterday morning a dispatch reached Carson announcing the death of George T. Davis. Although he has been out of health for some time, the sudden demise caused a shock to his many friends. Mr. Davis came to Carson in early days, and during his business career was always considered most honorable in his dealings. His charities were bountiful and were disbursed so that his right hand knew not what his left hand did. He leaves a widow and five children who will have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement. The remains will reach Carson this morning for interment.

Not Looking For Light.

Our friends the Republicans have been for ten days past invited to inspect the county books and see if the APPEALS figures were correct in county finances. None came however, probably fearing they might be convicted. In this connection the following note speaks for itself.

Nov. 5, 1894.

Friend Sam:—No received. No, no callers today to inspect books. I was in the office all day and will be here until 5 o'clock.

Yours, Ellis.

Doughty Denies it.

Yesterday while in Virginia City the Editor of the APPEAL met Mr. Doughty and in the presence of a dozen people asked him if he had ever told the Enterprise that he had called at this office demanding a retraction. He said he never had and also had told the Enterprise he never had. This convicts the Enterprise by its own witnesses, a harsh death contempt.

Notice.

I take pleasure in stating to the public that I have opened the Silver State Restaurant and will run the business under my sole supervision. Not having a partner and being untrammelled in the management of the business, I shall endeavor to merit a full share of public patronage.
